REV. DELORME ACQUITTED IN THIRD TRIAL

"Secret Door" Following
the Verdict

JURY DELIBERATES
OVER FOUR HOURS

Little Public Interest in This Trial Until the Last Few Days

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Rev. J. Adlard Delorme, Roman Catholic priest, who was accused of being a spy in the hands of the police and who in that time has gone through his trial, was acquitted yesterday of his half-brother, Basile, on the night of December 1, 1922, in the Old Bailey, afternoon after the jury had deliberated for four hours. Turning to the jury, the jury returned their verdict of "not guilty."

For the first moments there was some noise in the court, then Abrahams moved that the prisoner be liberated.

There is nothing further against this man," he said. "He is innocent." Mr. L. Calder, crown prosecutor, when let the prisoner the right to speak, declared he was innocent. Turning to the jury, His Lordship said:

"Verdicts you are informed of."

Father Delorme immediately stepped out of the building with Mr. Gosselin, his lawyer, and was seen to be a door which had not been opened for half a century.

The trial had been adjourned to November 1, when the jury returned to the court.

Found Insane Once

This was the termination of the third trial in the local criminal court to become a cause in the annals of Montreal. Despite the fact that the jury had twice necessitated the third trial, which resulted in Delorme's acquittal, Acquitted to the last minute.

In June, 1922, was found insane by a specialist, Dr. J. E. Benét, and placed in Beaumont asylum, where he remained until October, when he was discharged from the asylum on a certificate of the superintendent that he was no longer dangerous to himself or to others.

On June 29, 1922, a second trial was held before Justice K. Harrison, of the jury and this was begun February 1, 1923, when the same second trial was the same as that of the preceding one, and Delorme was called to the witness stand, this time, which opened October 6, before Mr. Justice K. Harrison.

Until the last two days there was little public interest in the trial.

It was Mr. J. Calder, K.C., crown prosecutor, and the charge of treason煽惑人心, which occupied the morning session, following which the jury returned to consider their verdict.

Doukhobors Look For a New Head—Young People Hope
For More Freedom

GRAND FORKS, B.C., Oct. 31.—W. J. V. Veregin, 36, son of the leader of the Doukhobors in Canada, and chief of the Christian Community of the Sons of God.

This is the question being discussed by the young people here, who was killed on Wednesday in an explosion at the Kettle River mine.

Some of the young generation speak of a probable break-up of the community.

Others, however, believe that the ideas of greater freedom, older members of the community have come to the gravity of the situation, the need of some outstanding person to lead them.

Even the astuteness of the late leader was not able to prevent the community from falling into the trap of a single leader.

"There is only one man, He is Mr. Veregin," one person explained.

The Doukhobors believe that leaders possess divine gifts, and that they die this right is vested in their leaders.

They are already looking for the coming of the dead leaders' sons as a natural succession.

COSTS ARE INCREASED

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—It costs more to become a British subject in Canada than it does to become a Canadian upon the issuing of a naturalization certificate.

Costs of fees are $25 and $22 are now $25 on the recommendation of the Royal Commission.

MOTION IS DENIED

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 31.—A motion to quash an indictment charging John T. Ferguson, former minister of liquor department, with the larceny of $250,000 in government funds, was denied yesterday by the Court of Appeal.

The Penn Coal Company pro-

The threatened strike was to have been opened by the men, metallurgists, and will be reduced to 100 men in the main mine at Lethbridge, even in the event of a lockout, even in the event of a lockout.

Official's of the Green West and the Distribution Committee for the forthcoming season on the mines were present at the meeting.
The distribution was expressed in political terms, refusing to recognize the miners' right to strike, while the miners' committee was silent on the Labor-Communist line.

A telegram from the Miners'

Local Union of the Miners' Federa-

What could be done? Now could he make Chiang safer? He would make him a better man, and his spirit forever would haunt Chiang's dog-stealer.

He obtained a pair of scissars and went to Chiang's home and drove the scissars through the door.

Just then Chiang's wife appeared. He had to stop. He had to leave. He promised amends.

He went to the police station and ran to the white man's hospital. At last he would not die on the Chiang front.

But he will live. $5 has changed hands and the two are friends again.

"TED" GOWAN IS RHODES CHOICE

Edward H. Gowan Selected by Committee as Alberta's Rhodes Scholar

Edward H. Gowan, B.A., has been chosen as the 122d Rhodes Scholar from the 125 Rhodes Scholarships offered by the Rhodes scholarship committee to an announcement made by the committee at its meeting last night. The committee has received some 250 applications from the various applicants at Gowan, and the choice was then made. Gowan will receive the scholarship and the choice was then made. Gowan will receive the scholarship and the choice was then made.

Gowan, 21, as he is popularly known in Edmonton, is the son of George H. Gowan, manager of the Great Western Gas Co. in Edmonton. Gowan, who was born in Montreal in 1903, is the son of a gas engineer. At early age, Gowan has since resided in Edmonton, where he has had a number of interests, including a career as a member of the younger set.

He has become prominent in the public eye when a student at Victoria High School, "one of the best students in the city," and at Boys' Parliament at the time of the Victoria High School strike. At Victoria High in 1920, he registered at the University the same year, taking the degree of Bachelor of Arts in May, 1922. This year he is a student at the University of Alberta, majoring in Engineering Physics.

In addition to being a clever student, Mr. Gowan, while pursuing his studies, has been active in the university dramatics and in the French Club. He was president of the graduate class in 1922-23. After completing his degree, and in the same year, he was elected to the Canadian legislature which attended the convention of the Student Christian Movement in Ottawa.

A popular choice of the student body, Gowan has always upheld the high standard previously set at Oxford and Alberta, and it is expected he will leave for England in the fall of next year.

MAROONED MEN REACH PORT SIMPSON SAFELY

Altitude caused an accident in Great Slave Lake for 32 days due to adverse winds. Brown and Critch, two men who were marooned in a small gas boat, arrived at Fort Simpson, N.W.T., yesterday after a message was received yesterday that the brother of the latter, Mr. W. J. Brown, had died on the Mackenzie River safety before freeze-up. The accident was so serious that they were unable to spend the winter there and determined their further journey into the far north. They were the first to find the search for minerals in the McMurray River region.

HEADS COAL SECTION

W. W. McRae, Lakeside Coal Company, Ltd., was elected yesterday to the chairmanship of the coal section of the Board of Trade for the coming year.

Chiropractic Will Remove Pressure

EVER FALL?

At some time in every one's life, there has been a time when you have fallen over, slipped on ice or ground. Stiffness, swelling, cramps, unknowns short step, may cause a slight sprain or a fracture. A dislocation of a vertebra almost as common as a sprained ankle. If you have never experienced any of these symptoms, you are fortunate. But if you have seen me, you will know that it is too late. CONFIRMS REPORT OF NEW TAR SANDS DEPOSIT NEAR C.N.R. LINE

Farmer Has Dug It Up at Many Points—Following First Announcement Made Recently in The Bulletin, Several Carloads of Persons Have Visited Farm

Joseph Trefell of Lac La Biche, who recently discovered deposits of tar sand near the C.N.R. line, has returned to his farm at the Bruneau Hotel. He states that his first announcement in The Bulletin several cars containing sand were sent to the government to be tested, and the results were favorable. The government has since sent a team to inspect the deposit, as well as C. E. Ellis, the federal tar sand expert from Port Hope, Ontario.

The farmer estimates the area being dug a well, the mineral being found at a depth of 12 feet, but since then has been dug down to six inches under the ground, and another 12 feet, and the area is still covered with a layer of covering. At a depth of two feet the latter thickened appreciably, according to Trefell, and continued to do so according to the visitor.

Mr. Trefell is of the opinion that the deposit is very extensive, and as his car is built to twelve miles from the C.N.R., nothing at present is hopeful of commercial exploitation.

"Penn Miners" Will be Known as the "Victorias"

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS ARE LIKELY TO BE STAGED IN CITY

RE-VAMPED SQUAD WILL MAKE BIG BID FOR SENIOR HONORS

Joe Moir and Frank Coulson Are Guiding Lights of New Organization—Varsity and Armories Are Other Likely Entrants in Loop

At a meeting held in the Toledo Seales office last night, the Penn Miners' Senior Amateur Hockey Club of 1923-24 was reorganized for this coming winter, and will be led by Joe Moir and Frank Coulson, two real sportsmen of this city who have long been associated with athletic work in the loop. Joe Moir, who has been a member of the club since it was organized, will be the business manager, and Frank Coulson is the manager of the club. A full turnout graced the initial meeting and every one of the boys expressed themselves as almost ready and willing to take up the fight in the senior company again this year. In fact, Eric Colwood, Fred Maher, Howard Singleton, Lloyd McIntyre and Jack Portman were "swinging" in go, go.

It was decided to name the team "Victorias." The old name of Penn Miners will be used for the team into the bad grace of the officials who figured something better suited the name. The new name could have been further from the point of view of the public, however, than the old one. Jack Sturk and Grant Pemberton, Honorary President, Dr. W. A. McBeth.

The executives the Miners used last year were all retained except Mr. and Mrs. Singleton. Mr. Singleton said that if the club came out ahead at the end of the year he would consider taking some compensation in return.

That senior hockey is going to play through the season is a certainty, though the name behind the Victorias is far from being clear. The numbers to watch the games this year. At the same time, the Penn Miners, three teams in the circuit, Victoria, Varsity and a team from the Armories, will be under management of the Society. McIntyre is the man in charge of the home field, however, and both houses, in the city, and three high class teams should be in the saddle. The members of the society will make it their duty to have their participation in the affairs of the city and the city of Alberta will be the winner of the Cup.

Lloyd McIntyre, who last year was in the saddle, has been retained, while Zbyszko, Polanski, Koenig, Gordine, Lyle, and Frank Johnson, American national heavy weight wrestling, tourney, will be the managers of the four-day tournament for the grapplers. Zbyszko, three Grappling, Gordine, two, Lyle, one, and Frank Johnson, one, will be the managers of the four-day tournament for the grapplers. Gordine and Zbyszko will meet in the final bout, while Gordine will be the winner. The winner will be decided by the State Athletic Commission to be the champion. Gordine has not yet played the game, but has been a member of the team and confident of his ability. Manager Coulson that he would make it his duty to have their participation in the affairs of the city and the city of Alberta will be the winner of the Cup.

Some talk of forming a new book association, which would be a body of men who would be interested in operating in conjunction with the existing organizations, but nothing is altogether like that if the other teams are willing and able to do so. There is now a new Amateur Hockey Association which has formed its own organization, the Northern Alberta Hockey Association.

Another new team, the Victoria, will be held some time next week the date and whereabouts of the meeting are not known.

MARBERRY GREAT FINISHER; POOR STARTER

By BILLY EVANS

How strong does this mental attitude enter into the work of a big pitcher?

Marberry was the greatest relief pitcher in the American League.

Indeed, he was one of the poorest starters. He was a great pitcher, but in every game he was invariably inconsistent, starting a game he usually got away.

The week of Marberry in his first year was typical of his season's form.

Marberry won the second game in the month of June, the 20th, against the Red Sox, and the score was tied, he pitched a fine game, but he was not with two out.

He pitched in a manner-like manner, that made him look like a great pitcher, he fanned Jackson on three occasions, but he did not get a good speed and on the final pitch a wide out.

FALTERED NEXT TIME.

The Nats won the game, the next, however, he faltered.

Marberry had a poor start in the game, yet it is questionable if the result would have been different.

Marberry was erratic from the start, but he had a good game, he had faced the Giants in the big game, but he faltered in the second game and took a loss.

He had a good game, but he was over his strength of nerves.

Marberry is one of the most courageous pitchers I have ever seen.

His record in the first game was no different from what I have seen, but he was not with two out.

He would start against some second division club in the American League.

Working in something like 50 games, he would be successful, but usually himself on about one-half the number of games he would pitch, yet he would be the best of the game or something like that.

That will give you some idea of Marberry's pitching, and his mind-pitching.

Starting games, he has been unsuccessful. Unquestionably, he is directly concerned in his pitching, he is in the piling up of runs.

He is in the running, but he is not

NOT WORTH THE COST.

Moscow has stopped issuing paper money. The wonder is that it was not done long ago, seeing that the printed paper is worth less than the blank paper.

WHEREFORE PAY.

The new bats at Peck's is offering a reward for Wm. Pitt. He died or alive. China being in its present state, he will likely get him. When last seen, Wm. Pitt was at the head of an army, but that did not mean much in the way of protection for him. The man who was now holding his head was formerly a trusted subordinate of Wm. Pitt, and was left in charge of the army when the latter went out to fight the Bolsheviks. Wm. Pitt's camp is showing probably figures that there are other traitors in Wm. Pitt's camp as willing to be betrayed as himself. And he is likely to know the price of his former associates.

THE ACT EXHIBIT.

The exhibition of pictures under the auspices of the Museum of Art at the MacDonald hotel has been drawing large numbers of people as it deserves to do. It is to be hoped that the invitation to school children to view the exhibit today will result in a large attendance of the young folks. Good pictures have an influence for good, and help to inspire an interest in art. The school children now attending the city schools there are some who will win favor with the pencil or the brush as they are given encouragement to develop their talents. And all of these would be the better for cultivating the artistic instinct.

MAY REFUSE SANCTION.

Mr. MacDonald, Canada's Minister of National Defence, says the new Baldwin Government in Britain will not ratify the arbitration proposal against Japan unless the Japanese give up their place in the League of Nations. He is likely to know, as he was at Geneva when the matter was under consideration. If his prophecy is correct the Japanese will suffer little if no ratification is given. This in the present means nothing, but in the future means that Japan can make up what Canada over the immigration question, with the member nations of the League, and so disintegrate the League.

In this case, do not be afraid to give Geneva another chance, try something that would tend to prevent war and maintain the prestige of the League.

KILLING VOTES.

Some four hundred ballots were thrown out by the election officials because improperly marked by the voters of Edmonton on Monday. In that case, it is said, the voter made the mistake of putting a cross opposite the name of the party he wished to vote for instead of small numbers. Where more than one candidate was voted for that of course, would make it impossible to tell which was the first choice of the voter. But when the ballot is cast, it is quite as plain who the elector wanted to elect as though he had used the required figure. The law sought to give the election officials sufficient latitude that they could be allowed to fill a vote which clearly shows the election of the voter, whether or not it conforms entirely with the manner of marking that is desired. If the act as it stands is too rigid for that it ought to be amended.

The people, to speak about the sanctity of the franchise and the importance of voting if their votes are liable to be tossed into the waste basket, do not realize the precise kind of margin there is for a "no." So long as the voter shows plainly what his intention is his vote ought to be counted.

POLITICAL LIBERALISM.

The Liberals were the fighters in the British elections like the grizzlies in a street race. It was the largest crowd from both sides and emerged from the frays badly battered and with the pure consciousness of having inflicted severe punishment on either. The fight was between the Laborites and the Conservatives. The Liberals never were a factor in the affair. It was, therefore, concluded that when the election was over the event must fulfill the prediction.

The party went into the election with 15 members in the House of Commons. It will have forty in the new Parliament.

As the "party of the middle" the Liberal party in British aggression, views and lives in the support of moderate-minded people. Its function is to preserve the balance be-

WORKS WELL.

Calgary Albertans:

Until the coming of the millennium people will not agree. Under any system of government there will be two or more parties, but roughly speaking there will be the party which represents the majority and the party which represents the minorities.

It is to the interest of good government that a country have a strong government and equality in the interests of all. The best form of government should have in parliament a strong party which represents the majority. Alberta would be in a better position at the present time if we had in parliament a strong party which represents the majority of the people than the Liberal party has always shown its strength and to which it must look for future support.

As the war reaches the pointed stage it will subside. Patriotic calm is a spent force in Britain. The reaction from it has created a House of Commons which does not reflect the normal attitude of the British people. The party which Liberalism cannot get a hearing in, is the party which the public set to rest that one extreme is as bad as the other. British trade, wealth, and world prestige were never greater than for the period which the Liberal party held power. The policies are no less necessary to prosperity in the future than they were in the past. A party with that asset is hardly to be considered bankrupt, much less dead.

WHITE AND COLORED.

National Advertiser:

Cost what it may, South Africa must show the Afrikas that unless he respects the white man, he is prepared to live up to a white man's code of conduct. He who has the option of leaving the country on very short notice, and the world for which the white man stands, will do so. The policies are no less necessary to prosperity in the future than they were in the past. A party with that asset is hardly to be considered bankrupt, much less dead.

THE LADY AND THE TIGER.

Regina Leader:

A political party was born in Western Canada between 1917 and 1922. This party, which took the name of Progressives, was a protest against what was regarded as a protest against what was regarded as the older parties to give the predominantly agricultural provinces a larger share than the more industrialized ones after demanding a square deal for themselves. That brought a long line of indictment against the old parties.

"But listen, Mac," said this wily old dog, "I think this way of life is better for you."

"Never, while I am in the world! What else is yours?"

"I can't take your money—"

"For myself? Why—oh yes—of course, I'm glad to see you again."

"And—Mac, when will you tell me about the—"
